To ASMSU candidates

Here's a chance to win votes—prove your eligibility for office by getting 100 in the questionnaire on the ASMSU constitution and by-laws sponsored by the Kaimin. Answers will be published in next Friday's paper.

Because of grapevine gossip about elections being "fixed" long beforehand, and the accusations that it's "just a popularity contest anyhow," the Kaimin has worked up a short test to be given to all nominees. The results will be reported impartially.

The Kaimin believes that anyone who runs for an ASMSU office should be familiar with the constitution and by-laws and should know the duties of his office.

The test will be given Wednesday at 5 o'clock in Room 211 of the Journalism Building.

Warning! Any candidate who does not appear for the test will have his or her name and desired office thoroughly aired in the Kaimin.

All candidates are urged to take the test, but only the answers of the following will be published: ASMSU president, vice-president, secretary, business manager, and sophomore, junior and senior class representatives to Central Board.

Publications Board picks Blair as Kaimin editor

Alice Drum is selected as business manager; appointments go to Central Board for approval; board calls for Sentinel applications

Bob Blair, Staunton, Va., was selected as editor and Alice Drum, Miles City, as business manager of the Kaimin at a meeting of Publications Board Tuesday. The appointments will be sent to Central Board for final approval next Monday afternoon and the new editor will take over the Kaimin the first week in May. The business manager will not begin work until next fall.

Publications Board also sent out a call for applications for editor and business manager of the 1945-46 Sentinel. The board will consider applications Monday afternoon and send their appointments to Central Board for approval.

To provide proper remunerations for this year's editor and business manager, Jane Jeffers, Ennis, moved that the Sentinel editor, business manager and associated editors be paid salaries as stipulated in the "M" book.

The "M" book provides that "the editor of the Sentinel shall receive a salary of $15 a month during the eight month term and receive at the time of publication a bonus not to exceed $125 if he has satisfactorily completed the work of (please see page four)

Gravel Gertie greets spring

'Tis spring, and at MSU young men's fancies are turning to thoughts of snow and rain and angle worms and hail and wind and ticks.

Yes, 'tis spring at MSU and the fancies of the young women are turning to meditations about looking like Gravel Gertie because the moisture in the air has knocked the curl out of their hair and the detriment to their beauty of arms swelled with tick shots.

The girls, bundled up in scarfs, rubber boots, raincoats and rainhats, look quizzically at the neat white shorts, tennis racquets, picnic togs and spring date dresses lying unused about their rooms.

The fellows sigh, curse lightly, and wonder at their previous sheer optimism as they glance disgustedly at their golf clubs, new spring suits, fishing poles and come to the awful realization that they have sent their ski equipment home.

The answer to this great upset in atmospheric and seasonal conditions is simple. Mademoiselle Spring, scheduled to appear this month, was informed by her manager, the weather man, that Monsieur Winter's act is not yet over—and they both forgot to tell the men who printed the calendars this year.

Panhellenic Council announces slate for ASMSU offices

Elimination of sorority candidates to two for each office was made Wednesday night at a special Panhellenic Council meeting at the Delta Gamma house. Last year's Panhellenic Council president, Eileen Plumb, Hardin, turned her office over to the new president, Lillian Martin, Stanford.

Mary Brome, Missoula, was appointed to take charge of the sorority clothing drive for the aid of war refugees. Each sorority was asked to appoint one girl to supervise collection of old clothing in her house.

Candidates nominated for ASMSU primary elections were:

President—Jane Jeffers, Ennis; vice-president—Mary Brome, Missoula, and Virginia Frach, Great Falls; secretary—Margaret Garrison, Missoula, and Garnet Sethne, Glasgow; business manager—Marilyn Hillstrand, Great Falls, and Barbara Johnson, Lewistown. Store Board delegate—Jeanne Hough, Hermosa Beach, Calif.

Central Board:

Senior delegate—Dorothy Davis, Dillon, and Jean Warner, Cut Bank; junior delegate—Mary Morrow, Oak Park, Ill., and Wilma Oksendahl, Plentywood; sophomore delegate—Ellen Mouat, Myers, and Carol Ferguson, Helena.

Senior Class Officers:

President—Leota Halter, Sunburst, and Mary Ann Luebben, Dillon; vice-president—Barbara Scherrer, Helena, and Lillian Martin, Stanford; secretary—Virginia Farnsworth, Missoula; treasurer—Lorraine Mannix, Helmville, and Norma Grasseschi, Black Eagle.

Junior Class Officers:

President—Mary Schmit, Lewistown, and Shirley Davis, Butte; vice-president—Jean Peterson, Missoula, and Kathryn Spacht, Billings; secretary—Marion Gilliland, Evanston, Ill., and Dorothy Campbell, Cut Bank; treasurer—Lucille Mannix, Helmville, and Louise Dreibelbis, Butte.

President—Twila Bergh, Harlem, and Donna Fanning, Butte; vice-president—Alcyon Carlson, Los Angeles, Calif., and Peg Hanley, Helena; secretary—Lois Ibsen, Glasgow, and Helene Kallgren, Butte; treasurer—Janet Reese, Spokane, Wash., and Diane Dorsey, Deer Lodge.

Mabel Manix announces committees

WAA President Mabel Manix, Augusta, announced the committees for the Playday to be held Saturday, April 28, for high school girls from 13 different schools.

Co-chairmen of the Ribbon committee are Rudy Sackett, Billings, and B. I. Smith, Ponca City, Okla.; co-chairmen of the Registration committee are Dorothy Davis, Dillon, and Elizabeth Spreull, Cranbrook, B. C. Co-chairmen of the Lunch committee are Jo Ann Blair, Missoula, and Elaine Hoover, Circle, with Dorothy Frame, Big Sandy; Noreen Ingle, Berg, N. D.; Violet DeGoller, Polson; Doreen Olson, San Francisco, Calif.; Helen Daigle, Alberton, and Shirley Powe, Hamilton, as helpers.

Co-chairmen of the Splash Party are Irene Caras, Missoula, and Shirley Anderson, Kalispell, with Muriel Bottomly, Helena, as life guard. Co-chairmen of Publicity and Utility committee are Alice Drum, Miles City, and Lee Jelli (please see page four)

AWS votes for candidates till 5 today

Doris Johnston Brady, Thompson Falls, and Dorothy Stricklin, Shelby, will vie for the presidency of AWS in the elections held today in the Student Store.

Other candidates for office are vice-president—Jane Solvie, Saco, and Elaine Hoover, Circle; secretary—Mary Catherine Paterson, Kalispell, and Una Mae Arras, Cutbank; treasurer—Tannis Brown, Missoula, and Jean Bartley, Great Falls.

Students who have not paid their AWS dues must pay them before they will be eligible to vote. No ballots which are cast after 5 o'clock will be counted.

Campus delegates will tackle post-war government at convo

Problems of international government are being tackled by approximately 38 students who will take part in the preview conference. Scheduled for the opening date of the San Francisco international gathering, the conference will be staged in the Student Union Auditorium.

Edmund L. Freeman, chairman of public exercises committee, is arranging the program, and other faculty members are lending their assistance.

Students will be seated around the conference table in delegations representing various countries. Their object will be to give a sympathetic exposition of national views on world government.

Dumbarton Oaks

Basing their work on the Dumbarton Oaks proposal, the delegates are now making a study of this plan. Such questions as the power of the security council, the number of votes in the assembly and veto power in the council will be attacked in the discussion.

Among those participating are: United States delegation—Janet Reinertson, Hot Springs, leader; Harris Hogan, Missoula; Shirley Scott, Great Falls; Janice Kelly, Hardin; June Sanders, Troy, and Paul Williamson, Butte.

Union of Soviet Socialist Republics delegation—Curtis Stadstad, Raymond, leader; Edward Phillips, Sweetgrass; Flora Mae Bellefleur, Creston, and Colleen McCool, Butte.

British delegation

Great Britain delegation—Louise MacKenzie, Havre, leader; Louise Repogle, Lewistown; Marilyn McConochie, Lewistown; Walter Hall, Livingston; Donald Paddock, Missoula; James Lucas, Miles City, and Elizabeth Spreull, Cranbrook, B. C., Can.

France delegation—John Rolfsen, Missoula, leader; Robert Seitz, Missoula, and Frances Sanders, Renton, Wash.

Latin-American delegation—John Rolfsen, leader; Jane Kinade, Missoula; Marjorie Powell,

Education club will see film

"We Are All Brothers," a film strip, will be presented to the members of the Education Club when they meet Tuesday, April 17, at 7:15 in the Bitterroot Room.

This film, which is based on a public affairs pamphlet, "The Race of Mankind," will present what science has learned about racial differences. A member of the faculty of the School of Education will act as narrator during the showing of the film.

Missoula grade school and high school teachers have been invited to this meeting. Members of the club are to pay their dues for this quarter at the meeting.

Missoula, and Robert Tabaracci, Stockett.

China delegation

China delegation—A. C. Hartpence, Billings, leader; Jack Groene, Billings; Marvin Lewis, Camden, N. J., and Eileen Plumb, Hardin.

Arab League delegation—A. C. Hartpence, leader, and Barbara Wayne, Polson.

Balkan delegation—A. C. Hartpence, leader; Marjorie Orner, Lewistown; Gerald Lester, Miles City, and Ann Hamble, Butte.

Scandinavia delegation—Stewart Brandborg, Hamilton, leader, and Helen Ann Lund, Reserve.

Belgium and Holland delegation—Stewart Brandborg, leader; Philip Sinclair, Glasgow, and Alfred Sachs, Helena.

Poland delegation—Stewart Brandborg, leader; Francis Burgess, Billings; Jane Jeffers, Ennis, and Frank McCarty, Boulder.

Tomorrow is the day

What: Spur tea for freshmen women with a grade average of "C" or better for fall and winter quarters.

When: Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5.

Where: Kappa Kappa Gamma house.

Those are the three "W's" of the Spur's spring tea tomorrow that one hundred fifty-two freshmen women are eligible to attend.

Heading the committee planning the tea is Tannis Brown, Missoula, with Marion Headley and Margaret Garrison, both of Missoula.

Those in the receiving line will be Pres. Mary Morrow, Oak Park, Ill.; Vice-pres. Lee Jellison, Hobson; Spur Sponsor Mrs. Paul Bischoff; Spur Adviser Ruth Ann Sackett, Billings; Mrs. E. O. Melby, and Mrs. Mary Elrod Ferguson.

Mrs. Frank Keith, Miss Mittie L. Shoup, Mrs. Ina C. Gordon and Mrs. Vera S. Rimel will help in the dining room.

Student action requested on two plans

Today's convocation projected two plans for student action—organizing Red Cross work for women on the campus and discussing curriculum changes.

Anna Salin, Red Cross representative from the central office at St. Louis, spoke briefly about Red Cross work on the campus. As an introduction, Hugh Edwards, Butte, told what Red Cross means to servicemen and its value on the battlefield.

Plans for curriculum changes were brought out by Anne Platt and Dr. H. G. Merriam, members of the Special Curriculum Committee. Miss Platt spoke on what the committee has already done. Merriam outlined what the committee hopes to do. Walter A. Anderson, dean and professor of education, introduced these speakers.

Bette Kennett, Lewistown, chairman of student convocation committee, announced that a convocation three weeks from today will again bring up the ideas for curriculum change. Students who have been here long enough to have a perspective of the curriculum will be asked to make comments and suggestions.

"M" books are needed

All students who have "M" books are urged to hand them in to Lew Burdick or to the Registrar's Office in Main Hall as soon as possible.

Because of the weather, SOS was postponed last night. The first SOS of spring quarter will be held next Thursday night.

A legend repeats itself

About three-fourths of the student body writhed and singed over the "Pink Report" Thursday morning. But even more were burning under the political black-mailing of Panhellenic and Interfraternity councils.

Sure, we're going over the same old ground, playing the same old game by the same old rules. All you've got to do is sit by and watch with amusement or disgust, moved by the ideas of the last politician you talked to.

But what about all this idealistic choose-the-best-man-for-the-office talk? Look over the slate of officers. Some look pretty good, don't they? Yet, the gods, or odds, favor not the candidates but the blocs behind them. For every efficient man put into office there will be some not so wisely chosen.

After griping for the last eight months about the present ASMSU president, is anybody going to do any better this spring?

Take the president, for instance. The women are clamoring for a woman president if a man can't do the job right. The men, on the other hand, have put up three candidates. On these facts, one can go out on a limb, and at least know which way the wind blows. Being true to their sex, the men split their vote among three candidates and end up with a weak showing because the women outnumber them pretty badly. The women do the same—vote for the women. The result is not "let the best woman win," but let Panhellenic fight the Independents and let the strongest bloc win. Even if you know one candidate is better than another, you don't vote democratically. Oh no, you vote to support your house or your bloc, that is if you got the jump on some other groups to form a clique first.

After the Panhellenic, Independent and Interfraternity big-wigs announced their slate of candidates, everybody withdrew to the sanctity of their houses to talk it over. Cliques got together, orders were issued on how to vote, and the fight was on. Nobody asked whether the candidates ought to be considered. If somebody pulled a fast one on you, it's about time to retaliate.

Why must the candidates come out of three separate cliques? Why can't there be one central clearing house for candidates to be nominated? Maybe there will be more names to mull over, but the chances to get some of the best people will be that much greater. An individual can have a chance to stand up for the people he knows are good rather than for blocs which he can't get away from if he tried.

Yes, my political friend, if fate steps in, we may get an efficient president and Central Board.—L.A.G.

Letters to the Editor . . .

Yesterday the "Pink Report" was circulated campus-wide with a message to voters concerning both the eliminations and the coming elections. Stimulation of interest in elections and the plea for cautious voting is well-founded. Certain facts were not carefully checked, however, before the publication of the sheet.

Lillian Martin, who was mentioned for her negligence in not calling a Panhellenic meeting for eliminations, did not take office until last Wednesday night, when she was installed at the meeting called for the purpose of eliminations. Panhellenic slate is in.

Only one house was not represented at the AWS elimination meeting last Monday. All houses were notified of the meeting through a Kaimin story as well as personally by the AWS president, Louise Replogle, who devoted an evening to calling delegates with instructions concerning petitions.

Two houses did not turn their petitions in to the designated place, and the meeting was delayed while a committee located the misplaced petitions. Two of these petitions belonged to the house whose representative was absent.

Six sorority groups were represented at the AWS meeting, five sorority groups now have candidates running for AWS offices.

No matter what candidates appear on the ballots, no matter what group they belong to, weigh their qualifications over in your mind before voting. Be sure the information concerning them is factual and not erroneous.—AWS and Panhellenic representatives.

Dear Editor:

"We don't have any candidates up for AWS. It's unfair!"

"How was I to know what time the AWS meeting was. What do they think I am, a mind reader?"

Such remarks for the last few days have been coming from the mouths of some of the partially unconscious females of MSU. Last Tuesday the list of candidates for AWS offices was printed in the Kaimin. Some of the campus groups, not seeing the names of any of their members among the nominees promptly began spreading rumors of partiality, graft and other such terms denoting gutter politics.

There's a very simple remedy for future repetition of the surly mutterings and accusations of the aforementioned damsels. READ THE KAIMIN! (It's just as easy to read it as it is to take it home and use it for garbage wrappers.) Neatly plastered on the front

WAA elections are scheduled for April 19

Elections for WAA officers will be Thursday, April 19, in the Student Store from 9 to 5 o'clock.

Jo Ann Blair, Missoula, and Elaine Hoover, Circle, are running for president with the loser automatically becoming vice-president. Eileen Volk, Great Falls, and Peg Connor, Helena, are on the ballot for treasurer, while Edythe Keig, Anaconda, and B. I. Smith, Ponca City, Okla., are up for secretary.

To be able to vote a person must have paid her WAA dues. You may pay them at the time you vote if you have not done so.

page of last Friday's Kaimin was a notice telling of the AWS meeting the following Monday, April 9, at 4 o'clock in the Bitterroot Room of the Student Union. The notice also stated that eliminations in the AWS slate of officers for today's elections would be made. (Look at last Friday's Kaimin if you don't believe it.)

What do these university women need to remind them of coming meetings and events—a town crier? "Blame yourself and not somebody else" might be a good motto for these lethargic lasses to adopt.—T.B.

Mountaineer sets deadline for May 1

Last chance for budding authors to publish on the campus this year will end May 1, the final deadline set for material for the spring quarter "Mountaineer."

Comments and subscriptions to the magazine, which has appeared in its printed format for the first time this year, have been received from many parts of the state, and requests for exchange and courtesy copies have come from libraries and universities all over the country.

Contributions of poetry, articles or short stories will be considered for the spring issue if they are turned in at the Mountaineer office (Library 110) or to any member of the editorial staff by May 1.

Students majoring in any school on the campus and in any class may contribute material.

Wartime anemia, coed curfew causes feminine discontent

BY PAT NELSON

Wartime anemia and too-stringent rules for coeds are two major causes of campus dissatisfaction as polled last quarter by a class in Basic Values in Religion. Of the 175 students queried, 40 per cent have found satisfaction in their major; 43 per cent have found fulfillment of their college expectations.

The class, led by Harvey F. Baty, assistant professor religion, compiled the questionnaire to unearth and bring into the open reasons for the apparent apathy and unrest on the campus.

Curfew causes complaint

The coeds' curfew ranked high in student complaint. Most of the group felt that Friday and Saturday night deadlines should be extended to 1 o'clock. One comment was: "Missoula's night air is no different from any other campus where girls may stay out later."

Although many sloughed off the feelings of dissatisfaction as coming from war tension, others stepped forward with definite ideas for bettering student-faculty relations, for war work, for building a chapel on the campus.

Full reign

Time and again students wrote: "Dr. Melby should be allowed to go ahead with his plans." "Melby should have full reign." "Melby has the right ideas."

Touching on the grading system, the questioned declared: "There's too much emphasis on grades, and not enough actual interest." The policy of deducting double for a wrong answer in true-false tests was attacked with: "If I was arrested for driving the wrong direction around the oval, under this true-false system I would be fined for driving the wrong way, and fined again for not driving the right way!"

To the query "What phase of college life has been the most enjoyable to you?" 70 per cent checked "friends," with the rest equally divided between "classes" and "social life."

Discourages religion

"This college discourages religion," wrote one student. Two out of three said that their religious beliefs had been either revised or shattered since coming to college.

Sixty-five per cent believed that an orientation course, stressing life's basic values, should be given to freshmen.

Miscellaneous comments skirted a number of subjects ranging from "If young girls who have no interest in studies would not come to college until they are old enough to form some basic ideas of their own about life in general, there would be fewer dissatisfied, date-starved girls on campus" to "Our faculty is more interested in research in their own field than in intellectual development of the student."

Bertha is found in halls of fourth estaters

"Have I stayed away too long? ... or, every moose has his day."

Big Bertha has lost her charm, apparently. The forester's bull moose, whose disappearance in former years had caused so much excitement was almost forgotten this year.

Wednesday morning, the belated moose-head, that's been around more than Eleanor Roosevelt, turned up rather unexpectedly in the revered halls of the Fourth Estaters.

Two janitors from the forestry building, knowing full well that "there's no place like home" even to the dismembered anterior portion of a moose, unceremoniously carted Bertha back to her old stamping grounds after her absence of over a quarter.

Whodunnit? The lawyers have accused the journalists of appropriating their age-old tradition of borrowing (?) Bertha. The foresters have accused everybody in sight. One thing is certain, it's been so long since Bertha disappeared that everyone has ceased to care.

Something new has been added

"I'm sorry, I have a headache," or "I won't be in town" a party. But, something new has been added.

An MSU sorority girl called up an alumnae to come to the annual initiation banquet. In a feeble voice, the woman replied, "I'm sorry, but I'm afraid I'll be having a baby the night of your party."

The Independents will meet Monday night, April 16, at 7:30 o'clock in the Bitterroot Room. A speaker is being contacted to be on the program. All members are urged to attend.

Gustafson approves of life in Rio de Janeiro

Rumba? Tango? Pretty señoritas? Roy "Gus" Gustafson, ex-'42, ought to know about those things for he was in Brazil for seven months. However, he says that "Brazil isn't quite like it is in books. Rio de Janeiro though—hmm, that's different!" Wonder what he found down there?

Lieutenant Gustafson, of the Navy, was engaged in patrol duty. He spent 23 months in Panama.

"It's tropical there," he said. "Rains most of the time and it's hotter than—well, just hotter than."

At the university the officer played football. In 1938 he made a state record when he tossed the javelin 197 feet and 5 inches. He majored in physical education and is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Lieutenant Gustafson entered the service in 1941. After taking training in Washington and Texas he received his commission.

Gustafson was recently home on furlough. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Gustafson, Corvallis.

Navy lieutenant sees action in Pacific

Tony Gasperino '38, lieutenant (j.g.) in the Navy, recently spent a short leave at home. He has seen action in the Marianas at Saipan, Tinian and Guam. He was in the Philippines at Leyte, Lingayen, and in the night sea battle with the Jap fleet at Surigao Straits.

Lieutenant Gasperino enlisted in the service in 1941 as a pharmacist's mate. He was commissioned in 1943.

At the university the officer was graduated from the School of Pharmacy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gasperino, Desmet.

A fast-passing Theta team defeated the All-Star High School squad, 30-26, in a snappy basketball game, Tuesday night in the Women's Gym.

In the first two quarters both teams battled to gain the lead, but remained tied until the last seconds of the first half when the Theta team went into the lead by two points.

Sharp shooting by the forwards pulled the Theta team out in front by several points. The high school team rallied but the final whistle went off before they could overcome Theta's lead.

Wanda Maurin, All-Star, was the top scorer with 14 points. Shirley Davis, Butte, was high scorer on the Theta team with 12 points.

Women's rifle team fires with good results

Completing their first weeks of preparatory marksmanship training, the women's rifle team, directed by Staff Sergeant Stanek, began firing Wednesday.

"And the results were surprising—surprisingly good," volunteered Maj. George W. Misevic who further praised the coed "Annie Oakleys" in his observation that the majority of class members seemed to have absorbed the fundamentals to good marksmanship exemplified by several excellent shot groups.

Competition between the three classes will begin in three weeks after practice firing in each of four positions is completed.

"Where did you fire, to the right or left," inquired Major Misevic of a disappointed markswoman who replied that the shot could have gone practically anywhere. "Then that's exactly where it went," triumphed the major.

Street leads high-point men in intercollegiate rifle matches

The Montana State University rifle team has completed the third stage of the National Intercollegiate Gallery Rifle Matches, announces Maj. George W. Misevic. This stage consists of the prone and standing positions for firing. The average of this stage for the high ten men was 74.

Major Misevic states, "This is an unusually high average of the ten man team. The team fired 90 points higher than the ten men qualified who fired in the 9th Service Command."

James E. Street, Butte, leads the high-point men with the score of 95 at a prone position and 85 at a standing position firing. James Lucas, Miles City, followed closely with the score of 92 and 86 at prone and standing positions respectively.

The other eight men competing in the Rifle Matches were Bernard

G. Hoffman, Max Sugg and Robert Morin, all of Missoula; Max French, Gardiner; Kenneth Hollar, Billings; Glenn Keil, Conrad; Clinton Oster, Billings, and Walter Hall of Livingston.

The National Intercollegiate Gallery Riflery Matches will end with the shooting of the fourth stage which is to be completed not later than April 15.
